

Vision 2004

The current goal within year 2003 I am setting is to make the world of econometrics and its related more programmable and more accessible in the most efficient manner, gradually from the basics to advanced topics, and to be the best of the best both on the web and in the real academic world domestically in Japan. Then, I strongly believe that I am going to be “naturally” invited in domestic academic world after this work has become “the” career record of mine nobody blames by year 2004.
